Music hall was crowded with a large assemblage of guests.

SCHOOL ATHLETICS

FIELD DAY IS THE MOST POPULAR WITH THE BOYS.

Baseball Waning in Popularity. While the Events Scheduled for Field Day Seem to Have the Unusual Amount of Good Timber in the High School This Year—Prof. Eyre, Principal of the High School, Leads the Work in Athletics This Year.

Pendleton high school boys, now that the football season is ended, are impatiently awaiting the time when baseball and track events may be indulged in. There is said to be much good timber at the high school this year for the organization of a track team, and the boys are anxious to organize and hold a field day.

There is danger of no regular baseball team being organized, as those able to participate in track events would rather devote their time to training for field day rather than playing ball.

The high school is fortunate this year in having George Eyre, Mr. Eyre is principal of the high school and is recognized as a college athlete. He attended Whitman College and is a University of Oregon alumnus, being identified with the clever athletes of both institutions.

It is the intention of the students of the high school to get together shortly and make definite arrangements for track and field work.

EVANGELIST IN PENDLETON.

Came Visiting, Will Return for Work Later in the Year.

Rev. Thomas Needham, evangelist, and Clifton Powers, tenor soloist, who accompanied him in his work, were in Pendleton a few days this week recuperating, after a very successful series of meetings at Milton. They are commencing work in the Grand Ronde valley towns and will probably be in Pendleton late in the season.

Mr. Needham has been in the evangelistic work for 30 years, and has held meetings chiefly in the larger cities of the Atlantic coast. Last year he was in Texas. He says that at the present time evangelistic work is more in demand and meets with larger results than at any time in his experience.
